These changes often lead to weight gain, primarily around the midsection, which can be frustrating and impact self-esteem. Fluctuations in estrogen levels can also contribute to fatigue, mood swings, and reduced libido, further affecting overall well-being. This is where a targeted approach, like our 10-day detox, becomes invaluable. The program incorporates elements of menopause weight loss, hormonal balance, and nutritional cleansing to support your body through this transition.
